

INTERNATIONAL RANDOM FILM FESTIVAL

5th Edition | October 2014 | Gdynia, Poland

Press Release #2/2014
11th October 2014

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

5th International Random Film Festival: Official Selection Announced

We are proud to announce the Official Selection of the 5th International Random Film Festival.

3.242 filmmakers from over 100 countries submitted their movies. 50 films have made our Official Selection to be screened during the festival in Gdynia, Poland (list of selected movies on page 2).

The International Random Film Festival is the first film festival in the world to celebrate randomness in cinema. We aim to raise critical thinking about established conventions at film festivals and give young filmmakers an opportunity to participate in a film festival. IRFF is organized annually in a randomly selected location, on a random opening date. Awards are given out randomly.

This year the Official Competition was selected in México City and our method involved a Lucha Libre wrestler and baby oil.

The location and date of this edition of the IRFF were selected at the end of the closing ceremony of our 2013 festival in Garpenberg, Sweden by using the random location generator, and the random number generator at <http://random.org>.
